- 6:30-7:15 pm Why the World Is Actually Getting More Libertarian
Sponsored by Reason | Dr. George Will, Dr. Nick Gillespie, & Matt Welch | Marriott Ballroom
Reason's Nick Gillespie and Matt Welch explore the libertarian moment in America and around the world with columnist George Will. They will dive into the emerging libertarian orientation of society that is in fact growing despite the less than sunny state of our politics.
- 7:15-8:00 pm Pussy Riot | Marriott Ballroom
- 8:00-10:00 pm All Conference Reception
Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | Exhibition Hall

GEORGE WILL

George Will is a political commentator and long-running weekly columnist for the Washington Post. He was honored with a Pulitzer Prize for Commentary in 1977 and published a number of books, including One Man's America: The Pleasures and Provocations of Our Singular Nation and Statecraft as Soulcraft. A media heavyweight, Will holds a Ph.D. in politics from Princeton University and was once called "perhaps the most powerful journalist in America," by the Wall Street Journal.

PUSSY RIOT

Pussy Riot's anti-authoritarian stunts have gained international attention and the Kremlin's ire in recent years. Tolokonnikova and Alyokhina were famously arrested in 2012 after performing a song critical of Vladimir Putin in a Moscow cathedral. They were released in December 2013 after nearly two years in detention. Only two months later, they were famously attacked with whips by Cossack militia members at the 2014 Winter Olympics in Sochi.

In the past year, Pussy Riot has begun releasing English language songs, turning their attention to more international political topics.

SATURDAY BREAKOUT SESSIONS

9:00-10:00 am - BREAKOUT SESSION I

Immigration Restrictions: A Solution in Search of a Problem

Dr. Bryan Caplan | Sponsored by Institute for Humane Studies (IHS) | DELAWARE A
Immigration laws heavily restrict foreigners' freedom to work, travel, and reside. Are there any decent arguments – libertarian or otherwise – in favor of such laws? Caplan covers all the major rationales for restricting immigration, and concludes libertarians should not only favor open borders, but make this issue their top priority.

You Need More than Ideas to Change the World

T.K. Coleman, Dr. Antony Davies, Dr. Steven Horwitz | Sponsored by Foundation for Economic Education (FEE) | DELAWARE B

There is an abundance of passion in those who want to change the world. When you're excited about an idea, you want everyone to hear it and be as excited as you are, but what's the best way to do that? Learn about the power of effectively communicating ideas that can transform the world.

Liberty on the Korean Peninsula

James Paek | Sponsored by James Paek | VIRGINIA A

Join a lively discussion of human rights issues on the Korean Peninsula including recent mass anti-government protests in South Korea, North Korean nuclear tests, the lifestyle of North Korean defectors in South Korea, and so much more.

School Choice: Education's Frontier

Lindsey Burke, Nora Kern, Tyler Koteskey, Moderated by Jason Russell | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA B

Frustrated with our bloated, stagnating public school system? Find out about how alternatives like charter schools, vouchers, education savings accounts, and "backpack funding" are giving families more freedom and better opportunities across the United States each year.

Advance Liberty at Your School: Become a Campus Coordinator

David Clement, Matej Avsenak Ogorevc | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA C

Students For Liberty staff discuss opportunities for you to develop professionally and strengthen the international student movement for liberty on campuses in your area through the Campus Coordinator (CC) Program.

By the Numbers: Important Issues in Interpreting Public Policy Data

Dr. James W. Lark III | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | MARYLAND A

A presentation of the ways in which public policy data can be misinterpreted and misused and the means by which libertarians can help people understand such misinterpretations and misapplications.

10:15-11:15 am - BREAKOUT SESSION 2

Dictators and Death Cults in the Age of Democracy

Dr. Michael Desch, Dr. William Ruger | Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI)

MARRIOTT BALLROOM 3

A conversation between CKI's William Ruger and Notre Dame's Michael Desch on the rise of Vladimir Putin, the expansion of ISIS, and what America's response should be.

Public Choice

Dr. Antony Davies | Sponsored by Institute for Humane Studies (IHS) | DELAWARE A
Market skeptics point to market failures like monopolies, pollution, and roads as evidence that government must regulate markets. Yet, in ignoring government failures, skeptics compare idealized governments to realistic markets. This lecture explores how government failures arise, what the implications of these failures are on public choice problems, and how government failures actually produce worse outcomes than do the market failures they are intended to correct.

The Fed in 2016: The Political Feasibility of Rules Based Monetary Reform

Dr. Lawrence H. White, Dr. Athanasios Orphanides, Dr. William J. Luther, Dr. Thomas L. Hogan, Moderated by Johannes Schmidt | Sponsored by Atlas Network | DELAWARE B
For the first time in recent memory, candidates and politicians alike are talking about the importance of sound monetary policies. Is that truly enough? Join Atlas Network's Sound Money Project for a conversation about the importance of rules-based monetary policy reform in 2016.

The Digital World of Politics

Stefanie Petropoulos | Sponsored by College Republican National Committee (CRNC)

VIRGINIA A

Social Media has revolutionized the way we campaign and win elections. Join the National Digital Director of the College Republican National Committee, Stefanie Petropoulos, as she explains the best ways to achieve your digital grassroots campaign goals.

Cryptoanarchy: Bites of Freedom

Thelma Okoli, Sam Patterson, Mattheus von Guttenberg, Moderated by Mike Avi

Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA B

This panel will be discussing contemporary issues in security, civil rights, privacy, and innovation as they relate to the internet. The age of memes has heralded political revolutions, orchestrated global reputation logs, and redefined anonymity. Following the rapid expansion of such a powerful medium, who will win: government regulators or techno-revolutionaries?

Advice from the Best Student Organizers on the Planet

Tuana Neves, Daniel Issing, Linda Kavuka, Lilian Lucena, Moderated by Jan Škapa

Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA C

A panel discussion featuring the best and brightest student leaders from all over the globe. Student leaders from Africa, South America and Europe will share their experience in student organizing.

The Bad Science Behind Campus Rape

Elizabeth Nolan Brown, Robby Soave, Peter Suderman | Sponsored by Reason

MARYLAND A

Sexual assault on campus is a serious issue, but policymakers do a disservice to victims by relying on junk studies and misleading research to craft new rules and regulations. Reason journalists dissect the bad social science behind the administrative push against sexual assault and provide solutions that would actually improve campus safety.

Crowdsourcing Video on Liberty - How You Can Help Certell, and Certell Can Help You!

Dr. Frederick Fransen | Sponsored by Certell | MARYLAND B

Certell stands for "Certified eLearning for Life." We have helped create the world's best online materials in basic economics, the Common Sense Economics for Life package. Now, we want to take it global and are looking for your help. Come learn how you can assist us in adding international video content to our already world-class materials, and how, by helping us, you'll also be helping yourselves. We will also announce a new SFL crowdsourcing video contest and discuss how we can partner with your group to add depth to your programs.

"Assault Weapons" or Assault on the Second Amendment

Dr. Stephen Halbrook | Sponsored by Independent Institute | MARYLAND C

Prohibitionists seek to disarm Americans to render them defenseless in the face of crime and terrorism. Federal courts wage massive resistance against the Supreme Court's Second Amendment rulings. The citizenry responds by buying more guns. The historical pendulum swings back and forth.

How to Build Your Profile as a Libertarian Writer

Katarina Hall, Tyler Koteskey, Jared Meyer, Moderated by Patrick Hannaford |

Sponsored by Young Voices | ROOSEVELT 5

Want to become a published writer? Thinking about a career fighting for freedom? Join this panel of young libertarian writers to learn how to build a career in journalism or policy. Hosted by Young Voices, the breakout will include information on how you can get published in prominent media outlets through Students For Liberty's public relations project.

11:30 am -12:30 pm - BREAKOUT SESSION 3

Everything You Wanted to Know About God and Sex on Campus But Are Not Allowed to Ask

Kristina Arriaga, Greg Lukianoff | Sponsored by Becket Fund for Religious Liberty and Foundation for Individual Rights in Education (FIRE) | MARRIOTT BALLROOM 3

Find out from two totally un-PC people how to speak the truth while staying cool on campus. Kristina Arriaga of the Becket Fund for Religious Liberty and Greg Lukianoff of the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education will answer your questions about God, sex and holding your liberty ground on campus.

From Che Guevara to Pinochet: Fighting Latin America's Strongman Legacy

Gloria Álvarez, Lilian Lucena, Rosa María Payá, Mauricio Alarcón Salvador, Moderated by Javier El-Hage | Sponsored by Human Rights Foundation (HRF) | DELAWARE A

From Woody Allen's 1970s classic film Bananas and the iconic "Che" t-shirt to the more recent Oliver Stone hagiography of Chavez and Sean Penn's "El Chapo" interview, Latin American political figures continue to invite attention and influence the views of millions around the world. In this session sponsored by the John Templeton Foundation as part of Human Rights Foundation's Speaking Freely project, the panelists will review the myths behind the persistent pop-culture narrative of heroic left-wing populists and revolutionaries versus bloodthirsty right-wing dictators. Speakers will share their experiences dealing with new forms of authoritarianism and political persecution that shatter this framework, drawing on stories from Venezuela, Ecuador, Bolivia, Nicaragua, and even Cuba, home of the hemisphere's last military dictatorship.

The Great Libertarian vs. Conservative Debate

Doug Bandow, Dr. David Azerrad, Moderated by Dr. Jeffrey Nelson | Sponsored by Intercollegiate Studies Institute (ISI) | DELAWARE B

United in opposition to big government, conservatives and libertarians are often political allies. But the alliance has never been an easy one. Fundamental questions lurk beneath the surface. Is it possible to reconcile the libertarian concern for individual liberty with the conservative preoccupation with order and virtue? Or are the differences so fundamental that the two schools can never be joined at the philosophical level?

How Liberty Wins

Ty Hicks | Sponsored by Young Americans for Liberty (YAL) | VIRGINIA A

We know that liberty is the philosophy that can bring the most flourishing to the most people, but how do we create the freer future that we all want to see? What are the engines driving real social change, and how can we tap into these to grow our movement? Your belief in liberty doesn't mean much if you don't do anything to help it win.

Is the War on Drugs Almost Over?

Bill Piper, Michael Collins, Lynne Lyman, Moderated by Josh Pearson | Sponsored by Drug Policy Alliance (DPA) | VIRGINIA B

Join Lynne Lyman, Bill Piper and Michael Collins of the Drug Policy Alliance for a rousing discussion on U.S. drug policy. Find out what states may legalize next, how close we actually are to ending the federal prohibition of marijuana, and if it's possible that decriminalization of all drugs could happen sooner than we think.

Creating Communities: How Common Bonds Can Become a Platform For Action

Nathan Fatal, Elizabeth Hayes, Christopher Monko, Moderated by Kaytee Moyer

Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA C

Join us for Creating Communities, a discussion about bringing people together through coalitions and common causes to form strong social bonds that can serve as a base for powerful community action.

The Joys of the Genetically Modified Table

Ronald Bailey, Baylen Linnekin, Katherine Mangu-Ward | Sponsored by Reason
MARYLAND A

"I'll have the pan-fried Frankenfish with a side of GMO edamame, please." Join Reason writers for a discussion about the future of food and tips about how to prepare your own technologically advanced banquet. Bon appétit!

Christianity and Libertarianism: Allies, Not Enemies

Dr. Norman Horn, Jason Rink, Doug Stuart | Sponsored by Libertarian Christian Institute | MARYLAND B

Can Christians be libertarians? Can libertarians be Christians? Join us for a discussion of why libertarianism is the most consistent expression of Christian political thought. Hear about the work of the Libertarian Christian Institute and what it is doing to promote liberty ideas to Christians around the globe.

Ludwig von Mises's Contributions to Economics and Liberty

Dr. Robert Murphy | Sponsored by Independent Institute | MARYLAND C

Bob Murphy will explain the great Austrian economist's important advancements in economic theory, such as unifying micro- and macroeconomics, writing the crucial critique of socialism, and explaining the cause of the business cycle. But beyond economics, Mises was also a champion of individual liberty, inspiring both academics and the general public.

Catapult the Propaganda

Davi Barker | Sponsored by Bitcoin Not Bombs & Muslims 4 Liberty | ROOSEVELT 5

An introduction on how words and pictures are used to manufacture public opinion, and how to turn the tables.

1:30-2:30 pm - BREAKOUT SESSION 4Student Impact Competition

Moderated by Alexander Skouras, Judges: Sloane Frost, Richard Lorenc, & Matt Warner | Sponsored by Atlas Network | MARRIOTT BALLROOM 3

Part of the Atlas Network's mission is to support innovative ideas with the power to make a real impact for liberty. One way to identify such projects is through a little friendly competition. Hear finalists pitch their ideas to a panel of respected judges from the liberty movement. Two winners will be rewarded $1,500 grants for a campus project.

Feud as Law

Dr. David D. Friedman | Sponsored by Institute for Humane Studies (IHS) | DELAWARE A

We are used to thinking of law as produced and enforced by governments. In fact, there have been many legal systems that were decentralized and privately enforced, some of which still exist. Many, perhaps most, existing legal systems show evidence of having been built on top of such systems of private law. That raises two interesting questions: What are the requirements for such a system to work? And what might a modern version look like?

An Open Society and Its Enemies on Campus

Greg Lukianoff | Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | DELAWARE B

The Charles Koch Institute presents Greg Lukianoff, president and CEO of the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education, with a presentation on the culture of censorship that is rearing its head on campuses across the nation. Come learn how censorious attitudes in the guise of safe spaces and political correctness are undermining the very core of what college and an open society are all about.

Who's Driving? Honing Your Message to Advance Liberty

Carla Howell | Sponsored by Libertarian National Committee (LNC) | VIRGINIA A

Today's political campaigns and media coverage are dominated by Big Government. Carla Howell will explain the principles behind, and invite attendees to play, the libertarian game Who's Driving? – demonstrating how to put liberty in the driver's seat in media interviews, speeches, written material, and general conversation. It's a game-changer for activists who want to go beyond mere talk about liberty to actually moving government policy in a libertarian direction.

A Debate: Should College Campuses Be Gun-Free Zones?

Jim Kessler, Dr. John Lott, Jr., Moderated by Crayle Vanest | Sponsored by Students for Concealed Carry on Campus (SCCC) | MARYLAND C

Crime research specialist Dr. John Lott, Jr. and policy reform advocate Jim Kessler debate the effectiveness, safety, and legal implications of "gun-free zones." The debate will be moderated by a board member of Students for Concealed Carry and will focus specifically on college campus gun bans.

DEBATE

2:45-3:45 pm - BREAKOUT SESSION 5The State in the Third Millennium

His Serene Highness Prince Hans-Adam II of Liechtenstein | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | MARRIOTT BALLROOM 3

His Serene Highness Hans-Adam II, Prince of Liechtenstein, discusses how a state in the third millennium should be constructed, which purpose it should fulfill, and which challenges it might face. He imagines a state that functions as a service company to its people and not the other way around, leaving only foreign policy, law and order, education, and state finances under the scope of government control. Welfare and happiness go along with a well thought-out and structured governmental system that has no debts and implements direct taxation through local communities and indirect taxation through the state.

PRINCE HANS-ADAM II OF LIECHTENSTEIN

The struggle for liberty takes many forms, and as a sitting ruler, Prince Hans-Adam II has thought a lot about how to promote and protect the liberties of the people of Liechtenstein. In fact, he's thought so much about the nature of the state that he wrote a book on the subject: The State in the Third Millennium. His central argument is that the growth of the state into ever more areas of citizens' lives has degraded its ability to perform its core and appropriate functions – such as the provision of national defense.

LYN ULBRICHT

Lyn Ulbricht is the mother of Ross Ulbricht, founder of the darknet market the Silk Road. In February 2015, Ross was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole on charges of money laundering and computer hacking. With an appeal filed in January 2015, Lyn serves as Ross' strongest advocate, traveling the country to educate audiences about the criminal justice system and its follies.

Ross Ulbricht's Appeal: Why it Impacts Us All

Lyn Ulbricht, Moderated by Philip Glazman | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL)
DELAWARE A

Ross Ulbricht's 140-page appeal, filed last month, boldly defends Americans' constitutional protections and right to a fair trial. Ross's mother, Lyn Ulbricht, will take this opportunity to show how it impacts each of us and our freedoms.

How to Fight Back: Winning the Free Speech Fight on Your Campus

Catherine Sevchenko | Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | DELAWARE B

The Charles Koch Institute presents Catherine Sevchenko, director of litigation at the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education (FIRE), with advice on what you can do to fight for free speech on your campus. Catherine will cover your rights as a student, best practices, and how FIRE can help you in your fight to protect and defend the First Amendment on your campus.

What Every Student Should Know About Money, Investing, and Student Loans

Dr. Mark Skousen | Sponsored by FreedomFest | VIRGINIA A

Based on years of experience with students, professionals, and investors, Dr. Mark Skousen reveals his little-known secrets to finance a college education, easy ways to avoid or payoff burdensome student loans, and other important tips for after graduation. Looking for a well-paying, fulfilling job right out of college? Wondering how to build financial independence without resorting to austere budget plans, risky speculations, or bankruptcy? This is the panel for you.

Decentralization's Challenge to Government

Sam Patterson, Peter Van Valkenburgh, Eli Dourado, Moderated by Jerry Brito

Sponsored by Coin Center | VIRGINIA B

Government regulation of speech and commerce on the internet often relies on its deputizing intermediaries like publishing platforms and payment processors. Increasingly, however, decentralizing technologies like cryptocurrencies allow individuals to communicate and trade online without intermediaries. This panel will discuss the trends in decentralization and discuss its implications.

Defending Liberty With Rebiya Kadeer and Women Activists from Around the World

Rebiya Kadeer, Riya Basnet, Lia Janelidze, Linda Kavuka, Kaytee Moyer, Moderated by Elizabeth Hayes | Sponsored by Women For Liberty (WFL) | VIRGINIA C

Rebiya Kadeer, a successful Uyghur Chinese businesswoman and prominent human rights activist, will share her inspirational story of how she escaped imprisonment and oppression in China. Kadeer will be joined by leaders representing WFL in South Asia, Africa, Europe, and the United States to share their activity working to advance liberty for women throughout the world.

REBIYA KADEER

Rebiya Kadeer is a human rights leader and former businesswoman who was ranked the 7th wealthiest individual in the People's Republic of China in the mid-1990s. She established a multimillion-dollar trading company before facing backlash for her human rights advocacy on behalf of the Uyghur people. Kadeer was eventually arrested in 1999 and sentenced to eight years in prison following a secret trial. She was released in 2005 and sent to the United States with refugee status. Today, she continues to fight for Uyghur human rights and she is widely regarded as the "spiritual mother" of the Uyghur people. Kadeer's advocacy work has been recognized internationally and she was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize in 2006, 2007, and 2008.

Why We Fight: The History and Impact of the Student Movement for Liberty

Dr. Tom Palmer | Sponsored by Atlas Network | MARYLAND A

The student liberty movement is bigger than ever, spanning the globe and rapidly growing. Libertarian student organizations have existed for decades, from small-scale discussion groups that learned directly from Ludwig von Mises and Ayn Rand in the 1940s and '50s, to nationwide chapters of Students for a Libertarian Society in the 1960s through '80s. How can their experiences inform the work of students today as they spread the ideas of liberty further than before? Join Dr. Tom G. Palmer as he draws from his considerable experience and insight into the history of libertarian student groups and applies them to the modern liberty movement. Palmer is editor of four books of essays produced by Students For Liberty and Atlas Network, translated into dozens of languages and distributed throughout the world — The Morality of Capitalism: What Your Professors Won't Tell You; After the Welfare State: Politicians Stole Your Future... You Can Get It Back; Why Liberty: Your Life, Your Choices, Your Future; and Peace, Love, & Liberty

Your Best Arguments Against Immigration Are Still Wrong

Alex Nowrasteh | Sponsored by Libertarianism.org | MARYLAND B

Libertarians should support freer immigration—here's why.

NRA University

Lexy Higgins, Natasha Montague | Sponsored by National Rifle Association-Institute for Legislative Action (NRA-ILA) | MARYLAND C

NRA U is a training seminar for college students interested in learning more about NRA, the Second Amendment, gun safety, legislative threats to gun rights and the gun control debate. NRA-ILA staff will travel to a college campus and provide seminar attendees with the tools they'll need to become more effective activists in the fight to protect our freedom, both on and off campus.

4:00-5:00 pm - BREAKOUT SESSION 6

Are you even PC, bro? Comedy and Conversation about Feminism

Christina Hoff Sommers, The Theater of Public Policy | Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | MARRIOTT BALLROOM 3

The Charles Koch Institute presents Christina Hoff Sommers, a Resident Scholar at the American Enterprise Institute, in a very special improv comedy engagement with The Theater of Public Policy (T2P2). The show will open with a frank on-stage discussion between T2P2's host, Tane Danger, and Sommers about feminism, freedom, and the fight over what "being PC" means at college campuses in 2016. Then the cast of T2P2 will take the stage and bring everything discussed to life through entirely unscripted improv comedy theater. It's C-SPAN meets Saturday Night Live: an unscripted unpacking of the delicate issues of gender and power. What could possibly go wrong? Join The Theater of Public Policy and Christina Hoff Sommers to find out.

CHRISTINA HOFF SOMMERS

Christina Hoff Sommers, a former philosophy professor who taught ethics, is best known for her critique of late-twentieth-century feminism. She is also known for her extensive writings, among them Who Stole Feminism? (Touchstone Books, 1995), The War Against Boys (Touchstone Books, 2001), One Nation Under Therapy (St. Martin's Press, 2005), and The Science on Women and Science (AEI Press, 2009). Her textbook, Vice and Virtue in Everyday Life, a bestseller in college ethics, is currently in its ninth edition. Her new book Freedom Feminism—Its Surprising History and Why it Matters Today will be published in spring 2013.

YEONMI PARK

Yeonmi Park is a North Korean defector and human rights activist who escaped to China in 2007. After her father was sent to a labor camp for smuggling, her family faced starvation. They fled to China, where Yeonmi and her mother fell into the hands of human traffickers before escaping to Mongolia. She now advocates for victims of trafficking and works to promote human rights around the globe. Park rose to global prominence after she delivered a speech at the One Young World 2014 Summit. Her memoir In Order to Live: A North Korean Girl's Journey to Freedom was published in September 2015.

In Order to Live: A North Korean Girl's Journey to Freedom

Yeonmi Park, Moderated by Ty Hicks | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | DELAWARE A

Yeonmi Park talks about her experiences fleeing North Korea, and how life in North Korea contrasts with life outside of it.

Unleashing Human Potential: From Dependence to Dignity

Gerry Hartis, Patrick Oetting | Sponsored by Poverty Cure | DELAWARE B

What causes wealth? The tendency is to focus on the factors that create poverty. The results are often solutions that undermine the dignity of the individual – solutions imposed from a “higher-authority” on people that we deem “poor.” Conversely, when we look at the factors that cause wealth, we begin to see individuals in a new light – as the heroes of their own stories. In this workshop, you will be engaged with stories that highlight the power of human creativity and the economic foundations that allow for human flourishing.

A Students’ Guide to Working with Trustees to Protect Academic Freedom

Anne Neal | Sponsored by American Council of Trustees and Alumni (ACTA)

VIRGINIA A

Communicating with the trustees on your campus can be more effective than communicating with university administration. After all, the administration is accountable to the trustees themselves. Listen to Anne Neal, President of the ACTA, talk about the role of trustees on campus, how students can communicate with them to effect change, and how ACTA has reached victories in protecting academic freedom on college campuses by working with trustees.

Reform to Revolution: Libertarian Perspectives on Criminal Justice

Jason Lee Byas, Blake Feldman, Bryant Jackson-Green, Cory Massimino, Moderated by Meg Arnold | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | VIRGINIA B

Should libertarians direct their efforts towards prison abolition or to incremental reforms to the criminal justice system? Participants on this panel will present views from the spectrum of libertarian approaches to criminal justice. From public policy reforms to prison abolition, the panelists will explore the breadth of belief, strategy, and tactics available to libertarians.

Where are They Now?

David Clement, Christopher Koopman, Jacqueline Silseth, Moderated by Clark Ruper | Sponsored by Alumni For Liberty (AFL) | VIRGINIA C

Join former SFL Vice President and AFL Member Clark Ruper for an exciting panel discussion with AFL alumni. The panel will feature David Clement, a former candidate for parliament in Canada and now a member of SFL’s program team, Christopher Koopman, a research fellow at the Mercatus Center, adjunct professor of law, and recently featured in Forbes’ 30 Under 30 list, and Jacqueline Silseth, the web project manager at TechFreedom and instructor at the Leadership Institute.

Last Rights or Last Rites: Whose Death is it Anyway?

Mark Dann, Debbi Gibbs | Sponsored by Compassion & Choices | MARYLAND A

Medical aid-in-dying laws give terminally ill adults the freedom to end unbearable suffering and untreatable pain by requesting a prescription medication they can take to die gently in their sleep. The vast majority of Americans want this option, yet 85% of us live in states where the government prohibits it. Compassion and Choices will present the burgeoning movement for end-of-life liberty.

New York’s Bank

Dr. George Selgin | Sponsored by Cato Institute | MARYLAND B
Wall Street’s role in the Fed’s establishment.

How Student Activism Will End the War on Drugs

Jake Agliata, Scott Cecil | Sponsored by Students for Sensible Drug Policy (SSDP) | MARYLAND C

Join SSDP national staff members for a presentation on the history of student-led, anti-drug war activism. SSDP staff will discuss how the student liberty movement may be uniquely positioned to lead the charge to dismantle the disastrous, global war on drugs.

5:15-6:15 pm - BREAKOUT SESSION 7

Voting vs. Reading: How do we Win?

Jack Hunter, Jeffrey Tucker | Sponsored by Young Americans for Liberty (YAL) | DELAWARE A

This is the hottest debate of ISFLC every year: Is it better to advance liberty through education or engaging in the political process? Join Jack Hunter and Jeffrey Tucker as they weigh the pros and cons of each tactic in the war for a free society.

A Clash of National Interests? The US and Russia in Eastern Europe

Dr. John Mearsheimer, Moderated by Dan McCarthy | Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | DELAWARE B

Join international relations legend Dr. John Mearsheimer of the University of Chicago for a conversation about the diplomatic and military balance of power in Eastern Europe. What does the ongoing tension between Russia and the United States mean for the future of the region? How do the national interests of the key players dictate the direction of this simmering conflict?

Free State Project: The Future's So Bright

Carla Gericke, Séamas Ó Scalaidhe, Matt Phillips | Sponsored by Free State Project | VIRGINIA A

Bring your shades, and join Free Staters for the inside scoop on living liberty in New Hampshire. Thousands of activists have already moved, and thousands more are coming! Discover what New Hampshire's thriving liberty community has to offer for passionate people hell bent on human action. Don't just talk the talk, walk the walk. Come live your dreams!

A Changing North Korea

Hannah Song, Moderated by Ty Hicks | Sponsored by Liberty in North Korea (LiNK) | VIRGINIA B

24 million people in North Korea face the most repressive regime in the world. However, multiple trends are changing the system and degrading the government's sources of power in irreversible ways. Drawing on insights from recent defectors and other sources, this presentation will examine the significance of key long-term changes in North Korean society and discuss what this may mean for the future of the country.

From Student Activist to State Parliament

The Honorable Marcel van Hattem | Sponsored by Alumni For Liberty (AFL) | VIRGINIA C

Alumni For Liberty (AFL) members are changing the world. Case in point: Marcel van Hattem, an SFL alumnus who was successfully elected to the Legislative Assembly of the Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul in 2014. Mr. van Hattem will discuss his experience in Brazilian politics, the importance of the SFL network, and how to continue to carry the torch for liberty in parliament.

Free the People

Matt Kibbe | Sponsored by Free The People | MARYLAND A
We live in a radically disintermediated world where free people curate virtually everything: new music, news sources, better ideas, and emerging communities built on free association and shared values. This à la carte generation is instinctually libertarian, so how can you and I help connect the dots and build a bigger, more diverse constituency for liberty?

Anything You Say Can be Used Against You

Tim Lynch | Sponsored by Cato Institute | MARYLAND B
Rules you should know for dealing with the police.

How the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee Built a Movement

Dr. Dale Woolridge | Sponsored by American Freedom Factory | MARYLAND C
The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) was formed in 1960 to fight racial oppression in the American South. The group has been described as “fantastically influential.” This breakout session uses psychosocial science and historical scholarship to explain its unique and powerful organizing method, which students can use today to advance the cause of liberty.

Liberty is a Story, so What’s Your Pitch?

Dugan Bridges, Matt Edwards, Patrick Reasonover | Sponsored by Taliesin Nexus
ROOSEVELT 5
Watch three great short films with liberty themes: Wigs, a Parks & Rec style mockumentary about historical re-enactors; WE, a horror in which a group of college campers find themselves at the mercy of an unknown killer; and Safety School, a Funny or Die-style comedy about a valedictorian who is shocked to find his speech censored by a campus bureaucrat. Attendees who visit the Taliesin Nexus booth will be able to submit film and TV pitches of which a handful will be selected to pitch to the room. You’ll learn about how you can pursue a career in liberty and entertainment.

SUNDAY

- 8:30-9:30 am Coffee Service | Exhibition Hall
- 8:30-10:00 am Foreign Policy Career Brunch
Sponsored by Charles Koch Institute (CKI) | Madison (3rd Floor)
Considering a career in foreign policy? Perhaps you want to pursue an advanced degree in international relations? Maybe you’re just skeptical about the high costs and dubious benefits of American adventurism and enjoy your bacon and eggs with a Bloody Mary? Regardless, please consider joining the Charles Koch Institute for its first ever Foreign Policy Career Brunch at ISFLC16! We’ve assembled a team of foreign policy professionals to provide career advice to would-be think tankers, academics, and pundits – so bring your interests and an appetite! Please note: attendance at either of our foreign policy sessions on Saturday gets you an extra drink ticket for Sunday brunch.

THOMAS DRAKE

Thomas Drake is a former senior executive at the National Security Agency where he blew the whistle on massive multi-billion dollar fraud, intelligence coverups, and the widespread violations of the rights of citizens through secret mass surveillance programs after 9/11. As retaliation and reprisal, the Obama Administration indicted Drake in 2010 as the first whistleblower since Daniel Ellsberg charged with espionage. Drake faced 35 years in prison as the government turned him into an enemy of the state for upholding his oath to support and defend the Constitution. In 2011, the government's case against him collapsed, and he went free in a plea deal. He is the recipient of the 2011 Ridenhour Truth Telling Prize, and the 2012 Hugh M. Hefner First Amendment Award.

SUSAN HERMAN

Susan N. Herman was elected President of the American Civil Liberties Union in October 2008, after having served on the ACLU National Board of Directors for twenty years, as a member of the Executive Committee for sixteen years and as General Counsel for ten years. Herman holds a chair as Centennial Professor of Law at Brooklyn Law School, where she currently teaches courses in Constitutional law and criminal procedure, and seminars on Law and Literature, and Terrorism and Civil Liberties. She writes extensively on constitutional and criminal procedure topics for scholarly and other publications, ranging from law reviews and books to periodicals and online publications. Her most recent book is Taking Liberties: The War on Terror and the Erosion of American Democracy.

SUNDAY BREAKOUT SESSIONS

9:00-10:00 am - BREAKOUT SESSION 8

Building the Coalition for Liberty

Grover Norquist | Sponsored by Students For Liberty | THURGOOD MARSHALL (3RD FLOOR)

The founder and chair of Americans for Tax Reform's famous Wednesday Meeting – a weekly gathering of more than 150 elected officials, political activists, and movement leaders – shares his strategy for building the permanent governing coalition for liberty.

Many Ways to Leave Leviathan

Jeffery Tucker | Sponsored by Foundation for Economic Education (FEE) | THURGOOD MARSHALL 2 (3RD FLOOR)

If thoughts of the 2016 election bring you down, come learn about a variety of ways to “hack the state” and live freely. From Uber to raw milk to 3-D printing, join us and explore the beautiful world of entrepreneurial pursuits.

Politics: What They Don't Want You to Know

Dan Johnson | Sponsored by Tax Revolution Institute | THURGOOD MARSHALL 3 (3RD FLOOR)

Dan Johnson started People Against the NDAA (PANDA) out of his dorm room as a college freshman in 2012. Within two years, PANDA forced the Capitol of New York and six other jurisdictions to ban indefinite detention without trial. Now, taking on the IRS with the Tax Revolution Institute, Dan Johnson wants to teach you how to beat politicians at their own game. Learn how politics really works... and how, no matter what your issue, how you can win for liberty.

10:15-11:15 am - BREAKOUT SESSION 9

Whistleblowing on the Frontlines of Freedom: Keeping Liberty Alive

Thomas Drake | Sponsored by Students For Liberty (SFL) | THURGOOD MARSHALL (3RD FLOOR)

Mr. Drake will provide a very personal account of the price he paid defending liberty and freedom as a whistleblower. He will describe his experiences targeted as an enemy of the state standing up to the US government and their violation of privacy through mass surveillance. What are the consequences of a US government decoupling itself from the Constitution, forsaking the rights of the people for the sake of national security? Drake will provide a critical warning and historical perspective regarding the devolution of democratic governance in the United States since the tragedy of 9/11, what's at stake for our future, and why we can never take liberty for granted.

NRA University

Lexy Higgins, Natasha Montague | Sponsored by National Rifle Association-Institute for Legislative Action (NRA-ILA) | THURGOOD MARSHALL 2 (3RD FLOOR)

NRA U is a training seminar for college students interested in learning more about NRA, the Second Amendment, gun safety, legislative threats to gun rights and the gun control debate. NRA-ILA staff will travel to a college campus and provide seminar attendees with the tools they'll need to become more effective activists in the fight to protect our freedom, both on and off campus.
